Vandals Rampant In City Monday

Homes and Machines Suffer Damage

Extensive damage to machinery and houses was caused by vandals who ranged over the city Monday, police said today.

Interior of a car owned by Harvey Finley, foreman at a gravel pit on 142 street, was almost totally wrecked, according to police.

Vandals ripped out wiring, upholstery, and the seats, smashed all the windows and demolished the instrument board, Finley told police.

The car was parked in bushes near the gravel pit where Finley is employed.

Alex Johnson, 11204 99 avenue, building contractor, said extensive damage had been caused to houses being constructed on Grieson Estate.

Building materials inside the houses and outside structures were damaged, Johnson said.

Thieves removed valves and other fittings valued at $50 from a steam engine.

John Dawson, 12554 97 street, owner of the engine, said the parts were taken from the engine in his yard.

O.K. Construction, 9531 111 avenue, told police a caterpillar at 117 and 90 avenue had been damaged and some parts removed.

Maynard Wins Sacred Nod

Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general for Alberta, was nominated to carry the Social Credit banner for the provincial riding of St. Albert.

Defeating Charles Holder, M.L.A., Mr. Maynard was nominated by a vote of 25 to 15 Monday night.

Since 1933 Mr. Maynard has been a member of the provincial government for the Beaver River riding.

Mr. Holder won the St. Albert riding in 1935, was defeated in 1940, and regained the seat in 1944.

Kenneth L. Hawson represented the Edmonton Master Painters association, and H. G. Turner, secretary of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Temple, represented the employees.

Three Edmonton officials of the Alberta section of the Canadian Congress of Labor were in Calgary Tuesday to attend a special meeting of the Provincial committee.

They are Jan Lakeman, Jack Hampson and Stan Solomon.

The meeting was called to discuss the issue of political action by the union and related questions.

Man Attacked, Mauled By Dog

A man was mauled and bitten by a vicious dog, Monday night.

Richard King, 11709 84 street, told police he approached the back door of a downtown cafe when he was attacked by the big dog.

King said he was knocked down and bitten twice on the hip and elbow.

His companion Herb Jones, 9710 100 street, helped King to the police station where city constables applied first aid.

Rustling Now Reported In Fraser Valley

VANCOUVER, June 22.—(CP)—Army authorities in control of flooded Fraser valley districts last night had a new worry—cattle rustling.

All roads leading to the flood districts now are under guard against the modern rustlers who have forsaken the horse for truck and car.

PATROLS STATIONED

Soldier and police patrols have been stationed along strategic highways and at feed lots where hundreds of cattle were herded in the early days of the flood.

It is difficult to tell rustlers from peaceful owners. Farmers say the rustlers use every trick in the book to get possession of cattle.

Rustlers are also active in the state of Washington. A report from Olympia, Wash., said the cattle thieves have cut heavily into the herds of some ranches.

One producer in western Washington has lost $11,000 worth of animals.

BLACK MARKET

Black market operations, made profitable by soaring beef prices, enter the picture. Farmers say much of the beef handled by rustlers finds its way to the black market.

An order now in effect in the flood districts demands that all sellers, buyers, dealers and butchers must prove title to livestock involved in any transaction.

Looters of household furniture, too, are reported active in the Fraser valley. Some have posed as Red Cross men, surveyors and dikes engineers, using any ruse to cross patrol lines.

Army's Greatest Peace Battle

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 22.—(CP)—Armed forces pitched their greatest peace-time battle in history when they attacked the treacherous flood waters of the Fraser, the defence department said today.

It took three regiments, several squadrons of aircraft and more than 50 naval vessels to attack the natural disaster that nearly swamped the whole of southern British Columbia.

What Premier Byron Johnson declared a state of emergency and placed Col. T. E. Snow in command May 22, the driest day in time of effort of Canada's active and reserve navy, army and air forces in aid of the country swung into high gear.

In all, nearly 3,000 officers and men of Canada's army were called to duty; 50 assorted naval craft manned by over 500 naval officers and ratings were kept busy night and day; squadrons of air force Dakotas, Lancasters, North Stars and others flew 757 flights and totalled more than 1,000 hours in the air.

Accused Woman Forlorn And Bewildered Creature

By JACK DELONG

Bulletin Staff Reporter

RED DEER, June 22.—The life of a golden-haired, 22-year-old farm wife is today in the hands of six good men and true from her own green countryside.

The jurors selected are all farmers.

Pollish-born Agnes Conrad, who came hopefully to Canada 18 years ago to find happiness and peace in a new land, stood in the prisoners-dock of supreme criminal court Monday a forlorn and bewildered creature.

She is being tried for the murder of her two-year-old adopted son, David Conrad, at the Conrad farm home on last April 5.

Of medium height and robust of build, Agnes Conrad looks little older than a high school girl. Flanked by a police matron and a scarlet-coated RCMP constable, she seldom raised her eyes but sat for the most part gazing sadly at the floor.

Only when the clerk asked for the plea to the charge that "she did on or about April 5, 1948, murder one, David Reid Conrad," did the accused show visible signs of emotion.

Her counsel, the veteran Neil D. Maclean, K.C., had to urge her several times to make answer.

Clenching and unclenching her hands and swallowing several times she finally said in a clear but tremulous voice: "Not guilty."

Just a few feet behind the prisoner's dock, but screened by the back of the dock sat another tragic figure, Clinton Conrad, the 26-year-old husband of the accused.

Conrad's face was impassive. A rural mail carrier and garage mechanic, he is a tall, husky young man. But when his young wife was called to stand as the charge was read, the husband too swallowed hard several times.

Mrs. Conrad was neatly dressed in a white shirt waist and dark skirt.

Before the jury box was filled, defence counsel Maclean used six of the 10 pre-emptory challenges allowed. Crown counsel D. B. MacKenzie and M. J. Brennan set aside three prospective jurors.

Counsel expressed the view Monday that the trial would be over by Wednesday night.

Shriners to Invade Edmonton Friday

The Homberg will give way to the Fec on Edmonton streets on Friday and Saturday.

Upwards of 1,400 Shriners are slated to gather in the city this week-end for the Al Azar summer ceremonial.

Delegates from Montana, Vancouver, Quebec, Calgary and other points are expected to attend.

Host to the visiting Shriners will be Jim Long, president of the Edmonton club.

More than 450 nobles and their wives, from mid-western and northern U.S. are slated to arrive in the city Thursday.

The U.S. groups, travelling by cars and buses, will be met at the International border by illustrious Potentate F. G. Fulton of Calgary.

Following a reception in the Macdonald hotel on Friday, the guests are slated to rest up for a colorful parade through city streets, starting at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

After parading down Jasper, the Shriners will proceed to the Masonic Temple for business sessions.

The Potentate's ball, in the Macdonald on Saturday night, will wind up the ceremonial. On Sunday the visitors leave for Jasper, remaining at the park until Monday.

Children's Day On Saturday

Saturday has been named National Children's Day in Canada. Churches, schools, colleges, the Lieutenant-Governors of the provinces, leaders in sports, entertainment and education are cooperating to make the day one of celebration.

Celebrations are planned in cities from Montreal to Vancouver.

The day is designed to be a help and inspiration to children of the post-war world.

More Grasshopper Activity In South

LETHBRIDGE, June 22.—(CP)—Increased grasshopper activity in a 40-mile strip, paralleling the border, from Lethbridge to the Saskatchewan border, today was reported by J. G. Archibald, Alberta government agriculture department field man.

He said there was an increasing demand for grasshopper bait from district farmers and that bait is being used as fast as it is mixed.

A Water Safety Program

Three Edmonton school boys went out in a canoe on Whittemud Creek Sunday and the craft overturned. Two boys were drowned and one managed to save himself.

The two boys who were drowned could not swim. The boy who was saved could swim, but was not sufficiently proficient in aquatic skill to rescue his companions.

On the same day two men were drowned in Buffalo Lake.

Neither could swim.

The terrific roster of summer drowning accidents, of which these are fine examples, could be brought down to a minimum in the Edmonton district with an all-out civic program of water safety.

The Canadian Red Cross Society already has an organization and a program in this city to promote water safety. But the Red Cross aim, which is that every child should know how to swim and how to rescue others, cannot possibly be carried out without sufficient public pools in which its instructors can demonstrate.

For the sake of the safety of its younger citizens, the city should co-operate to the highest possible degree with this Red Cross program.

Such co-operation should take the form of:

1. The construction of at least ten more public swimming pools in Edmonton. The present three pools are absurdly inadequate. Even the additional three suggested by Mayor Ainlay are not nearly sufficient. A city with a population of 130,000 should have at the very least one pool for every 10,000 people.

2. Transference of the pools from the control of the parks department to the recreation commission.

Such transference of control is suggested because the parks department has facilities only for the administration and development of public property. The recreation commission, on the other hand, has facilities for operating the pools on a recreational and instructional basis.

In other words, the parks department has only to do with property. The recreation commission has to do primarily with people.

The swimming pools can only reach maximum usefulness when they are adapted to the urgent needs of people.

These shocking water accidents every summer season show how desperately a knowledge of swimming and life saving is needed by young Edmonton people.

The conservation of a single life is worth more than the cost of a dozen pools.

Everybody Benefits From Tourists

The necessity for immediately increased hotel accommodation in Edmonton is emphasized by the fact that everybody in the community benefits from the tourist business.

The great value of the tourist trade is not only in the impressive dollar total but in the widespread distribution of the tourist dollar.

Typical distribution is calculated in this manner:

Retail merchants, 30 cents; theatres and restaurants, 22 cents; amusements, 9 cents; accommodation, 17 cents; transportation, 7 cents; gasoline stations, 12 cents; incidentals, 3 cents.

It should be remembered also that this income is redistributed through all channels of commerce and taxation.

Every individual, therefore, benefits directly or indirectly from tourist business.

It has already been pointed out in this space that the 1948 and 1949 tourist volume is expected to exceed that of any other year.

But there is greater competition for that business than ever before.

Both Latin America and Europe are making unusual bids for tourists while there is a powerful movement to retain American tourist travel within the United States.

Edmonton's share of this lucrative business, which benefits everybody, will depend entirely upon what Edmonton has to offer.

Adequate hotel accommodation is one of the essentials.

Witch Hunt at Ottawa

There is something unpleasantly suggestive of the old-time witch hunts in the close investigation of government department personnel now going on at Ottawa.

Employees in external affairs and national defence, it is reported, are being scrutinized in respect to their loyalty and their family backgrounds.

There is only one thing more unpleasant than the doing of this job. And that is that it has to be done.

Twenty years ago, a Canadian was a

Canadian and no one dreamed of suspecting his good faith. But the spy trials of two years ago showed plainly and shockingly that an entirely new disease had crept into Canadian life—that fantastic internationalism that causes men to betray their own countries.

The radical leftists, who are responsible for the contagion, have never explained how a man can be expected to be loyal to the world when he cannot be loyal to his own nation.

Do Canadians Want Or Need Military Service?

The most delicate and inflammable question hovering in the political background today is the question of compulsory military training.

Anyone who boldly advocates such training is sure to be labeled as a warmonger. All the pacifists and anti-militarists and sentimentalists will be on his trail like a pack of non-belligerent wolves. If you will pardon the paradox.

And yet, if war should come, which God forbid, anyone who took a firm stand against compulsory military training would be regarded as a weak and deluded idiot.

It is one of those things which make politicians in another country can stand a second paragraph in half a dozen lines of type.

The hushed silence that cloaks this subject in Canada is not, by any means, a deliberate conspiracy. It simply means that this country hates war so bitterly that it succumbs to the very human failing of turning the back on those things which conjure up unbearable memories.

Yet it's Got To Be Faced

Nevertheless, the action of the United States senate in passing a draft bill providing for a 21-month term of training for young men between 19 and 35 has turned the limelight on the matter so blindingly that Canada can no longer ignore it.

It has got to be faced for two reasons:

1. Because it is almost inconceivable that the United States could be involved in a war that would not include Canada.

2. Because the United States will stand up under drastic differences between Canada and the United States would stand up under drastic differences.

ent methods of recruiting manpower in the two countries.

Therefore a decision with regard to compulsory military training involves a great deal more than the mere details of a draft.

If Canada's defence is to rest entirely upon voluntary enlistments, it is obvious that the whole conception of joint defence with the United States is untenable.

If another war should come, it will be such a desperate and extensive conflict that an ill-prepared country would go under at the first blast—no matter how powerful its friendly neighbors might be.

Possibilities Of A New War

My own opinion about the possibility of a new war, which I would not exactly call a prediction, is that the likelihood is remote.

It appears to me that atomic energy would be the deciding factor in another war. It does not seem to me to be a probable that any country could have the stockpile of atomic bombs known to be possessed by the United States.

The action of the United States in taking steps to enact a compulsory military measure is merely to build a complementary force of manpower capable of carrying out the enemy and making the atomic bomb effective.

In other words, compulsory training in the United States, if it is put into effect, is not so much preparation for war as insurance against war.

What Canada will have to decide is whether or not she wants to take up such an insurance policy for herself.

Total War Indicated

If war should come within the next ten years, which I do not believe, it would infinitely surpass the recent war in the totality of its operations.

All this means that meticulous and intensive training would be one of the vital factors in any new war.

The most expert troops would win.

What, then, is going to be Canada's position?

Is she going to gamble in the very good chance that no new war will break out within this generation?

Is she going to put on more insurance than she can afford?

Is she going to calculate to her own advantage that a foreign

Unseemly Haste Over Hotel

Editor, Bulletin.—The decision of the city council at its Wednesday, June 16, meeting to re-site a hotel is a most disquieting development.

The whole procedure smacks of unseemly haste. It is a serious violation of public trust when a group of laymen is asked to make a decision on a matter of such importance.

At last Wednesday's meeting the council decided to re-site the hotel. The decision was made in a very hasty manner.

Editor, Bulletin.—The pleasure with which I read the first article of Reg Hammond's new series on Yellowknife, turned to regret and disappointment when I followed him through the second article on our cocktail bar.

The picture he presented of the cocktail bar is a picture of a place that has not proved an unmitigated blessing to us who live in Yellowknife.

The cocktail bar is popular, too popular, in the minds of Yellowknife, with some firms going to the extreme of having a better, more controlled place to drink. It has meant more drink for the people of Yellowknife.

OUR TOWN Beach Tarzans' Jeering Retort

Well, sir, I was wrong about the Beach Tarzans not talking. One of them has come to the defense of all the muscle men. "Each year we wait, our well-muscled brains tense with expectancy, for the one sure hanger of Summer, our annual distributive against our ilk," writes one Frank Collier.

Then it appeared as usual and we pictured you as you sat at work on your epic.

Meanwhile your devoted wife stands ready with the oxygen tent, the morphine and the adrenalin. A true picture of genius at work."

"Ah yes, Mr. Scott, we saw the Princess carry you down the beach on her sturdy back that day; we saw you in your lavender bloomers. We watched you as you played in the sand and, furiously took notes and we took full police of your own incredible physique. Great Scott, Scott, say it isn't so! Tell us, how do you preserve the plasmic quality of your muscles (male and female)?"

"In closing I have heard it said, that the erotic clash between two intellectuals (male and female) is also something to witness; that if one has an ear for the brittle sound of two dried wheat stalks in close communion!"

The discovery hinges on years of research into means of making wool resistant to moth grubs. The usual method of mothproofing has been to add antimony compounds to the face of the fibre and this has always had the drawback that the antimony eventually wears away. Now, by soaking wool in a certain solution, the fibres can be rapidly changed into a material which is resistant to moth grubs' favorite food to something it can't digest at all.

Currency Reform To Be Discussed

Russian Accepts British Plan For Four-Power Conference

By Edwin Shanke

BERLIN, June 22.—(AP)—The Russians accepted early today a British proposal for four-power discussions of uniform currency in Berlin, the Soviet-licensed German news agency announced. Berlin is the seat of four-power rule in Germany.

Last night Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor, bluntly told the Russians they had no more rights in Berlin than the three western occupying powers—the United States, Britain and France.

He suggested to the Russians that they join a four-power meeting to discuss the currency situation in Berlin which now faces the prospect of two kinds of currency—that introduced by the Russians for the Allies in western Germany, and currency soon expected to be produced by the Russians.

Meanwhile, Adolf Hitler's old

Reichsmark still is legal tender in the Russian zone of Germany. Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, the Russian commander, wrote identical letters to the three western commanders warning them not to attempt to introduce the new currency here. He claimed Berlin is part of the Russian zone.

The news agency's announcement of Russia's acceptance of a currency conference came a few hours after the German economic conference for the Soviet zone placed a currency reform proposal before Sokolovsky. Terms of the proposal were designed to go into effect soon in Berlin and the Russian zone.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, June 22.—(AP)—The old cry of "I didn't raise my girl to be an actress," doesn't go with Betty Hutton. "That's a lot of slush," she says.

"I've heard a lot of stars say they wouldn't want their daughters to be actresses," the irrepressible Betty exclaimed in her Paramount dressing room. "What's the matter with them?"

"I've had a ball being in show business all my life. I've met the President of the United States and I could meet the King and Queen if I wanted to go to England. In what other line of work could I Betty Hutton do that? And why shouldn't I want my daughter to get as big a kick out of life?"

Betty said she doesn't intend to force her children into the acting profession. "The desire has to come from within them. So far, Lindsay, 19 months, has shown theatrical tendencies, but Candy, six weeks, hasn't yet displayed much acting talent."

"I don't intend to give them all kinds of singing and acting lessons," Betty declared. "Nobody can teach them to be great. The big stars in the business have all found talent within themselves. That's the way my girls will have to do it."

'Red' Offices Burn As Citizens Watch

ROME, June 22.—(AP)—While the city's street well away and watched, Communist party offices at Lavinio burned down Sunday. They would have been glad to put out the fire, Bologna dispatches said yesterday, but the constant explosion of the Italian house and carriages stored in the building made it impossible.

Thousands in Detroit beer gardens. "It's too bad that youngsters nowadays don't have amateur nights and other ways to break into the business," she said. "But if they really want to act, they'll find a way."

Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray are doing their seventh film together, "Family Honeymoon." It hasn't always been a winning combination, Claudette observed, citing "Maid of Salem," one of her two flops (the other, "Zaza"). "I was awful," she said. "I remember how Fred and I danced the Minuet in an apple orchard looking like a couple of jerks."

Mary Astor gets a twinge of nostalgia playing Marmee in MGM's "Little Women." Her first job was a lead in the same opera for a Chicago stock company.

Betty started in the hard way—dodging vegetables at amateur dancing parties and acting lessons. "I don't intend to give them all kinds of singing and acting lessons," Betty declared. "Nobody can teach them to be great. The big stars in the business have all found talent within themselves. That's the way my girls will have to do it."

Rains Fail Dampen City Tennis Torney

Seeded Mixed Stars Beaten In Only Upset

Ol' Man River dripped down from July under Monday, but he didn't have a chance of dampening the enthusiasm of Edmonton net stars as they determinedly went about the business of playing in the annual city tennis tournament on three courts.

Only upset Monday came in mixed doubles when Jimmy Hoyle and Edna Kenwood eliminated the seeded team of George Docherty and Helen Wolfe. Scores were 6-4, 3-6 and 6-3.

In the BULLETIN cup seeded Sophie Hughes and her partner, a very promising junior—7-5, 6-1. With a few more seasons under her belt Miss Tweed will be a tough nut for even the seeded stars to crack.

Things were right on schedule in the men's singles, with Ralph MacMillan, Docherty, Bryan Power, Walter McIntosh and Gray Chatter all advancing.

RARE EXCITEMENT

Glennora spectators are in for some rare excitement Tuesday night. At 8 o'clock the men's singles veteran Mort Watts meets Bob Cameron, All Inga plays Walter McIntosh and the popular redheaded Ken Crockett takes on up-and-coming Ralph MacMillan.

Bessie McAvoy and her partner, a very promising junior—7-5, 6-1. With a few more seasons under her belt Miss Tweed will be a tough nut for even the seeded stars to crack.

There is a full draw at 7 and 8 and all competitors are beginning to reach that spine-chilling, critical stage.

Thus far Dr. Hal Richardson, tournament chairman, and Cal Holmberg, secretary, report everything right on schedule. Play continues at Glennora, Garneau and Civil Service courts tonight.

MONDAY RESULTS

MOS—MacMillan 6, Henning 4, 6-0; Docherty 6, Kuster 4, 6-0; Power 6, Wiegand 4, 6-0; McIntosh 6, Hinkins 4, 6-0; Cuthbert 6, Edgar 4, 6-0.

Aussies In Form

SHEFFIELD, England, June 22.—(Reuters).—Dismissing Yorkshire in their first innings for 206, they sent to their own first innings total of 249, the Australia by late 112 for the loss of one second-innings wicket by close of play on the second day of their match here.

Yankees, Cards Creep Up On Major League Leaders

NEW YORK, June 22.—(CP).—Leaders of both major leagues came a cropper Monday night as they tried to pull away from their closely-packed opposition.

Starting a "crucial" series against the second-place New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians ran into a barrage of base-hits as they lost 12-5. Alpha Brite had one of his best nights as he pitched the third place St. Louis Cardinals to a 1-0 victory over the Boston Braves.

National League pace-makers, the Yankees who shaved the Braves' first-place margin to 2½ games, the Braves played a game and a half ahead of Pittsburgh Pirates, who also suffered a set-

Cub Victory Surge Leaves Morris Cold

Ed Morris, manager of Brant Matthews second-place Eeks of the Big Four Circuit, professes to be unimpressed by what went on as Cuba flattened Calgary Purty four times running at the week-end.

In other words he doesn't take too seriously the unlooked-for spurt of the Cubs.

"I can't see how two fellows could make such a difference," he observed Monday upon his return from a successful invasion of Buffalo stadium. The Eeks took Buffs by the odd game in five, should have won four of the contests.

The "two fellows" referred to were, course, Ray Ensign and Gus Bumpo, recent Cub additions from San Francisco.

"No," Morris went on, "I figure Purty must have been a little offside."

STRAINED RELATIONS?

All of which may or may not be conducive to a harmonious relationship between Eeks and Cubs when they open a two game series at Rocky Park Tuesday night, first ball to be tossed at 8:00 o'clock.

Cubs are taking themselves pretty seriously these times. From manager Laurel Harrow on down the feeling in the ranks is that "Junior San Francisco Seal" is that better days are here to stay.

They are, as a matter of fact, eyeing a playoff slot. This despite the fact that they are still quite a piece removed from the third and last playoff slot.

A PITCHING PROBLEM

Get back to the Ed. (Can I ask you a question?) Morris. While not inclined to take Cubs too seriously—as yet—he has run up against a pitching problem on his own account. As is known Clarence Mollie, the good chucker from Oregon, is sidelined with a broken finger. As well the consistent Jerry Seaman has gone off on his holidays. During the Calgary series Harold Callahan was pummeled hard.

Ed of Seals means that Doug Darrah and Ed (Lefty) Heller will have to carry the load until Le and Ed can get back at least. It will likely be Darrah tonight, although there, too, a back condition developed of late by the slim pitcher. Lefty Heller Morris to shoot with Heller.

Dick Peters might just be the moundman for the Cubs.

Ray Robinson, Rain Force Bout Setback

CHICAGO, June 22.—(AP).—The Ray (Sugar) Robinson-Bernie Docusen fight for the world welterweight championship Monday was postponed until next Monday night. Threatening rain and Robinson's failure to make the regulation 147 pounds forced the postponement.

Robinson, the champion, showing up half an hour late for the weighing-in, pleaded that he did not have sufficient time to regain the 147 notch. He said he weighed 151½, but unofficially it was said he was four pounds over the figure. He refused to get on the scales, while Docusen, the boxing wizard from New Orleans, tipped an even 147.

George Gairford, Robinson's manager, agreed to post an additional $4,000 as a guarantee that the titleholder will make the prescribed weight by noon next Monday. He said Robinson was 147 pounds last Thursday, when the bout was first postponed by rain. He insisted his fighter should not be required to step on the scales again.

Sheldon Clark, chairman of the Illinois Athletic Commission, said the National Boxing Association rules require a boxer to weigh in a second time if the bout has been delayed more than 24 hours.

Robinson, who has $15,000 posted with the commission, He previously fought $10,000 for appearance and $1,000 to make weight.

4-3 win over Philadelphia Phillies. Hatten also doubled home Grady Sizemore in the first inning and scored a third tally on Babe Young's triple in the fourth.

Allie Reynolds pitched and batted the Yankees to victory, collecting his eighth win against three setbacks and driving in four runs. Snuffy Stirrweat had a homer, two doubles and a single.

A 300-foot homer by Joe DiMaggio, his 15th, pitched a new up the verdict in the seventh.

St. Louis Browns doubled Philadelphia, 4-2, but they had to do it the hard way.

The Browns committed five errors and their pitchers issued no less than 16 bases on balls, but their batsmen came through with 15 safeties, five of them in the ninth inning, to overcome the handicap.

EDITH SKITCH MAKES NO. 1 ZONE SQUAD

Edith Skitch, the Mighty Mouse from Edmonton who is currently pounding on the under tracks of Quebec, will be one of 11 women representing No. 1 zone in the Olympic track and field final trials at Montreal July 9-10.

She will compete as a member of the Montreal Olympic Athletic Club and is slated to perform in the 100 metres, 80-metre hurdles, running broad jump, and the 400-metre relay.

Local track critics rate Miss Skitch the finest female athlete developed here since the palmy days of the Edmonton Grads.

Army and Navy Vets Honor Hockey Champs

Golf, tennis, football, soccer and baseball are in full swing, but Edmonton sportsmen are still paying tribute to the Edmonton Flyers who brought the first Allen Cup to history to the city.

Monday night it was the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' turn to "salute" the champs, and they did it in royal fashion.

DUAL PURPOSE

The smoke served a dual purpose — to honor the Flyers and commemorate the Vets' second anniversary in their present clubrooms. Tom Green, Edmonton's soccer, tossed in a little dry humor when he compared hockey with "salute" the champs, and they did it in royal fashion.

He also remarked that quite a few hockey players learned sportsmanship while playing hockey when they were kids.

Green has been connected with soccer for 33 years.

Archie Allen represented football, and Ed. Candy said a few words for the lawn bowlers. Candy compared the lawn bowlers with the fishermen.

"They can tell some tall stories about their games."

QUITE SOME SINGERS

It turned out that Frank Currie,

Flyers' coach and Harvey "Pug" Young, sturdy defenceman, are quite some singers. They did a neat job of MacNamara's band and before they were through, had the rest of the gathering singing just as heartily.

Dick Williams, president of the Veterans Club, welcomed the Flyers and remarked on the success of the Vets' club's sports successes during the past year.

The bowling team won the Army and Navy Veterans' provincial cup and the football team won the Northern Alberta championship.

Ed Williams was chairman of entertainment and led the sing-song. The artists were Jimmy King, flashy forward of Waterloo, intermediate hockey team, who sang several solos; Jack Williams, slight-of-hand expert; Steve Campbell, Scotch comedian and Jimmy Grant, tap-dancing comedian.

The lumbermen moved ahead 6-0 in the first four innings before Stewart's boundary belt highlighted their sixth inning spree, good for five runs. The Saints tallied five of their own in the sixth in an effort to get back in the ball game.

Victoria Hi Cagers Honored By Eaton's

Edmonton's Allan Cup winning Flyers aren't the only ones reaping the golden grain for athletic prowess on the sports fields.

Monday night in the Macdonald hotel a husky group of Victoria High School cagers, city and provincial basketball champions, was honored at a banquet staged by the junior executive of T. Eaton Co., Western Limited.

Highlight was the presentation of the Eaton Junior Executive Trophy, emblematic of city high school basketball supremacy. Donald Hobson, store superintendent, turned the cup over to John Polonuk, captain of the Vic contingent. It marked the first year the trophy has been up for competition.

After the boys had carved and consumed the steaks and it is a known fact that growing athletes can pack away plenty of the vitamins, Chairman Chester E. Moffet presented colorful sweaters to one and all of the players.

As many of the boys are about to graduate this term, Hobson cautioned them to stick to teamwork after school is out. "Good players in any sport always get along and usually make successes of themselves," he added. He assured the gathering that the meetings will become annual affairs.

Other speakers were Walter Stewart and Harold McFarland, V. teachers.

Players on deck for the occasion were Alf Pektet, Ed Lutch, Art Kruger, Ron Reid, Peter Melnychuk, Tony Makewick, Jack Morison, John Polonuk, Ed Saddy and Merle Lightbody.

Bill Evans, junior executive chief, Jerry Blacklock, Vic representative in the 1947 Dunphy's 100 yard dash, and Rose MacLean, Eaton's department head, also took part in the proceedings.

Near Net Upset Scored by Vet At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England, June 22.—(CP).—Britain's Don Butler came within an ace of providing the first upset in the Wimbledon tennis championships, which started here Monday when he was within two points of beating last year's runner-up, Tom Brown of the United States, Seeded No. 4 this year.

Butler, 38-year-old Davis Cup player, only went under after a 103-minute battle by 5-7, 6-1, 4-3, 6-2, 5-7. The Briton, 12 years older than his opponent, played with surprising vigor and tenacity in the fifth and final set, and led 5-4 and again 6-3, but Brown rallied to win.

Butler, years past his best, was supposed merely to act as a foil for his popular American opponent, but he came near pulling a tennis upset such as Wimbledon seldom has seen on opening days, but for a series of double faults in crucial games, he might have won.

Brown was the only one of the eight seeded stars to drop 2 and at the men's field was reduced from 128 to 64 players.

John Bromwich, the Australian who is supposed to reach the final against Parker, eliminated J. Van Den Eynde of Belgium, 6-2, 6-4, 8-6, and was disgusted with his game.

Jaroslav Drobny, the bespectacled Czech "dark horse" of the tournament, put on a brilliant exhibition in beating W. C. Choy of China, 6-1, 6-3, 6-5, in his opener.

Down Memory Lane With Manahan

The man who was the centre of one of the most exciting and at the same time most weird final matches in the long history of the City Amateur golf tournament is an entrant in the Alberta Amateur which gets under way at Mayfair Thursday morning.

Bob Manahan, now of Calgary, is the shotmaker in question.

In the 1939 City wind-up, at 36 holes, Manahan, son of Cliff Manahan, the curling maestro who twice has held the Canadian crown, dropped a close 2 and 1 decision to Henry Martell over the Municipal course. Even as far back as nine years ago Martell was the acknowledged king of the city's simon-pure golfers. So the mere fact of Manahan going under to him was hardly news calculated to stop the press.

However, the circumstances set tongues to wagging for weeks.

Not only did the long-hitting Manahan stage one of the greatest 'almost' comebacks in the history of sport anywhere, but as well the weatherman got into the act with some of his worst antics of the season.

Well along the way Manahan was nine down with but 12 holes to play. At this stage his chances weren't worth a lead quarter. Going around the turn to the last nine he was still in a tight fit, being seven holes in arrears.

It not only rained a skyful that day, with the down-pour particularly heavy after lunch, but as well it snowed some to provide just the garish touch needed to go with Manahan's belated comeback heroics.

However, the circumstances set tongues to wagging for weeks.

DANGER MEN for opposition teams in National League are Warren Spahn, left and Bob Elliott, batting cleanup, of Boston Braves. Southpaw Spahn is out to duplicate his 21-game season and 2.33 earned-run-average of last year. Third Baseman Elliott seeks to repeat as the elder circuit's most valuable player.

Power-Laden Legion Breezes by St. Pats

When a "powerhouse" meets an average team in any sport, the result can only be one way.

So it was Monday night when the redoubtable North Side Legion eleven rode roughshod through Oliver St. Pats in the second round of the Dominion Football Association preliminaries at Clarke Stadium.

At the finish the score read 9-2 and there wasn't a spectator in the sparsely filled grandstand who could deny the North Siders their margin of victory.

They played like the true champions they are. They led 5-0 at half time and outplayed the opposition 7-2 in the stubbornly contested second half.

But despite the one-sidedness of the score, it will be a long time before the power-laden Legionnaires trade kicks with a gamier adversary than the St. Pats.

Although they were wallowing in the depths of defeat, the Oliver team played an all-out game, and especially in the second half, made the provincial champions work their legs off to establish their superiority.

Manager George Hall and his mates from Oliver gained some consolation for their endeavor, however. They were the first aggregation to score two goals against the Western Canada semi-finalists this season.

Legion peppered the Oliver net from the opening whistle, and Bobby Graham netted the opener. Ed Humble's corner kick, Bill Thomas counted on a long shot.

When last sighted the Maple Leafs of the Junior Baseball League were several fathoms south of EAC in the deep blue.

The life down there is difficult to examine with the naked eye, but it is safe to assume that the sale of aspirin in the Blueshirt organization soared to a new high after Monday night's 10-4 pasting by Canadians.

The Redleg win had other effects too, it lent impetus to the sales of CNR, South Side and Canadiana would run off and hide from the other two clubs in Commissioner Callahan's league. Today Canadians and CNR are neck and neck, with South Side a half lap off the pace.

Maple Leafs started with one run in each of the first and second frames Monday. They got to starter Len Kallen, a shutout on Monday nights, for as many baseknocks and nursed a 2-0 lead travelling into the Canadian third.

Right then and there Canadians showed little respect for Lefty Nook's slants, singles by Jack Suggen, Penny Smith and Colin Shaw, and Doug Ringler's substantial triple gave the Redlegs a 3-0 edge.

Canadians added one more in the fifth, and finally chased young Nook to oblivion in the sixth. Three runs were in and Andy Redford on base when Benny (Irish) Grabow came on for Nook. Before the flame was out Smith tapped a homer to right to give the big red team a 9-2 lead and left the Leafs with a haunted fear.

Reliever Redford, who replaced Kallen in the third frame, allowed a pair of runs before Doug Ringler abbreviated the contest to eight innings. Zeke Waluk and Grabow punched singles. Steve Mendryk drew a base on balls, and Bob Fleming committed a blunder at short for the Blueshirts brace in the eighth.

Graham started the ball rolling after the interval, with Dave Gillings placing the sphere on his toe. The inspired Oliver team came into the picture for the first time with Ted James booting in Hoskins' rebound from the cross-bar.

Gillings headed in Humble's kick and then James came through with the second St. Pats' tally on a penalty shot.

Gillings finished off the scoring, counting on Humble's pass for the first and tapping in the ball after it got away from Russell, Oliver goalie, after Thomas' hard drive.

Legion—Shaw: Dempster, Skidmore Campbell, Francis, Anderson, Russell, Graham, Gillings, Thomas, Humble. Oliver—Russell, Britt, Belcher, Hamilton, Johnson, Davidson, Louis Hoskins, Parsons, James, W. Ed. Humble's corner kick, Bill Thomas counted on a long shot.

The group plans a lot of decorating and improvements to the building this summer, but play will continue as always. One floor will be closed at a time, thus giving the pin-addicts the opportunity of hitting more head-pins, and maybe a strike here and there.

Big Parade Features Hanna's Rodeo Day

HANNA, June 22.—One of the best parades seen here in years was displayed last Wednesday, Hanna's "Rodeo Day". Lovely and suitable floats were shown by Don's Taxi, Southern Alberta Dairy Pool, Kary's Tire Shop, Hanna Sales and Supplies and many others. Implement dealers had a long string of combines, tractors, etc., on view.

Altogether the parade was half a mile long with the highlight of it being the Drummer military band. This band played several much-appreciated selections at the bandstand in the fair grounds during the afternoon.

Many rough and tough bronks were ridden while on the other hand several cowboys hit the dust. Two of them were stepped on by the horses they had been on and were taken to hospital. Both of them, McKinnon and Marks, sustained broken ribs and are doing well now.

The day was rounded off by a dance in the Memorial Hall at night. A four-day carnival on the curling rink grounds commenced that evening.

The proceeds from the rodeo, dance and carnival are to be used to build the new skating arena.

CITIZENS OBJECT to open garbage dumps within city limits, such as this one in Mount Pleasant, which borders backyards of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright (right), and Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan. Both houses are in 9800 block 79 street. Residents near this, and other seven city dumps complain of smell, flies and menace to health.

City Dump Menace Brings Storm of Angry Protest

By HAROLD DELANY

Residents of two Edmonton districts are up in arms about open garbage dumps in their areas. They are demanding that the health-meeting eyesores be moved outside the city limits.

The dumps are in the pleasant suburb of Mount Pleasant, at 98th avenue and 80th street, and at the 82nd Street river bank, below Highland Drive.

Offending dump at Mount Pleasant, which is half-acre in size and growing rapidly every week, borders the Wright property at 9800 79 street, and, according to Mrs. Fred Wright, fills the house with flies, smoke and a horrible stench.

While investigating the complaint, this reporter received indubitable proof of the stench, before the dump was even sighted. As for the flies, large and revolting-looking bluebottles were clustered on the screen when he knocked at the Wrights' door. However, there was no smoke because the city didn't happen to be burning refuse that day.

DONE EVERYTHING

"I've done everything I possibly can," said Mrs. Wright, "to have this disgraceful situation remedied, but I have been completely unsuccessful."

"In the more than two years that the dump has been here, my husband and I have made several trips to see the city health officer and the city engineer."

"When the health officer finally came out," she said, "he admitted, after measuring off the distance, that the dump was too close to my house, and the place next door. But when I asked him what he was going to do about it, he referred me to the city engineer."

"But the only thing the city engineer ever did," said Mrs. Wright, "was to have a bulldozer cover the rotting mass—and that was just a few days before last year's election."

CAMPAINERS

Fellow-campaigners and neighbors of the Wrights, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Luke, 9607 80 street, have received what Mrs. Luke refers to as "the old pass-the-buck treatment" from civic officials.

In answer to a petition, protesting unhealthy garbage conditions, and bearing over 40 signatures, city engineer A. W. Haddow wrote to Bernard Luke on April 21, 1947: "I have the protest re dump at 80th street and 98 avenue, signed by yourself and others. Foreman of the General Streets Improvement League endeavor to put this in shape, and in the meantime, we will study the situation to see if any relocation can be made available for this district."

"During this lengthy 'meantime,'" said Mrs. Luke, "my unfortunate neighbors and myself have been combating an ever-increasing number of flies and smells."

GRASS FIRES

"And on top of that," she said, "during the summer, unattended dump fires have been burning unabated so many times, that we are afraid to go out at nights."

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Douglas, who are respectively, president and health chairman of the Forest Heights Home and School Association, say they have made repeated, official, but unavailing, protests to civic officials about the dump, which is just a block from their home.

Even on 82nd avenue, several blocks from the dump, residents complain of the constant health menace.

"Jack Brunner, 9617 82 street, and Mrs. Henry Ashman, 9022 82nd street, who are two blocks from the dump, manage to keep their young children away from the dump, but they both complain about the great number of bluebottles.

DON'T PLAY

"We can keep our children from playing there," said Mrs. Ashman, "but how can we keep the flies away, or stop dogs from carrying dead chickens and other filth into our yards?"

No less vehement in their protests are the people who live within in smelling-distance of the large dump at the foot of 82nd street, just a little down the river from the Dawson bridge.

Residents of this district overlooking this ugly refuse heap, voiced strong opinions of the "degradation" of one of the city's greatest assets—the river valley.

"In apology for this wanton dumping," said Mrs. Harry Hole, 8112 Jasper avenue, "the city engineering department claims that it is necessary to bolster the river bank at this point, to prevent undercutting of the cliff."

REASONABLE BUT BAD

"This theory is perfectly reasonable, but surely there are agreeable and equally effective types of fill," said Mrs. Hole.

One of the most outspoken opponents of Edmonton's garbage disposal system, is Mrs. Joseph A. Clarke, 3852 Jasper avenue.

Mrs. Clarke is the widow of Joseph A. Clarke, who was twice mayor of Edmonton.

On the city council herself in 1942, '43, and '44, she has been campaigning, both officially and as a private citizen, for over 20 years to have the garbage dumps moved outside the city limits.

mendous potential threat to the health of our citizens.

"It is my belief, that one hot, dry summer and the resulting millions of flies on our seeking west holes at dumps, will bring a record polio epidemic," said the former alderman.

"If our civic officials are really concerned with the health of the people of Edmonton," said Mrs. Clarke, "then there is only one thing to do: move the dumps outside the city limits."

Said Mrs. D. McAdams, 8312 Jasper avenue, who has signed three petitions in 48 years, protesting the river-bank dump:

"It is a horrible fly-trap and a disgrace for a city of this size. Normal smell of the dump is just plain bad, but when they're burning—it's nauseating."

WASTE OF TIME

W. Noak, 8120 Jasper avenue, has been trying to get something done about the dump for the past 14 years. He has written to civic officials several times and signed petitions, but he says:

"It has been a complete waste of time, as far as getting any action concerned, because every year, the dump, the flies and the smell have just become bigger and bigger."

Mr. Hinton entered the Merchants Bank of Canada in 1907 and while in Alberta served as assistant and assistant manager at Edmonton and Brooks from 1913 to 1915.

He was accountant and assistant manager at Calgary from 1915 until 1922 and later managed branches of the Bank of Montreal at Olds, Vegreville and Wetaskiwin.

In 1939 he was made credit officer for the prairie provinces and British Columbia districts. He retired because of ill health in March, 1947.

City Man Wins Acquittal

An Edmonton man was acquitted of a charge of selling illegal tickets on an automobile in supreme court Monday.

Wilbert H. Brinkworth, 11229 99 avenue, was charged with "unlawfully selling tickets for disposal of an automobile by means of chance."

Tickets were sold to finance activities of the Canmore Hockey Club.

Crown Prosecutor W. J. Shortreed contended that the system of completing a limerick on the tickets sold was a scheme to evade the law.

Detective Val Taylor and Detective Sergeant W. Smith gave evidence that several purchasers of tickets failed to complete the limericks after purchasing their tickets.

Defense counsel Walter Beaumont submitted no evidence but contended that there was insufficient evidence to sustain a conviction.

It was clearly stated on the tickets sold, he said, that it was a limerick contest, and therefore one of skill.

Alberta Graduate Wins High Honor

UNIVERSITY PROF. SAYS Canadians' Popularity On Upswing in Paris

Canadians are in solid with the people of France.

That is the opinion of Dr. E. J. H. Greene, 11003 89 avenue, who just returned to Edmonton from a 10-month visit to France.

Dr. Greene is an assistant professor of French at the University of Alberta, and was granted leave of absence from U. of A. to study in France.

He recently received his doctorate from the Sorbonne, the faculty of arts and sciences of the University of Paris. His thesis was "The French Influence in the Order of Merit."

Dr. Greene was living in the famed Latin quarter of Paris. There, and in almost all parts of France he visited, he found that, "as far as Canada is concerned, we are extremely popular."

The French can't do too much for us.

"Canadians always have been quite high in French regard, and to a large extent our troops enhanced that regard," said Dr. Greene during an interview Monday.

"The hospitality which I received is something I never experienced before the war," he said.

Dr. Greene lived in France during the pre-war "dark days," from 1936 to 1938, and from 1939 to 1940. He spent one year with U. of A. after that, then joined the R.C.N. in which he served 39 months.

Paris hasn't changed much in appearance, said the Visiting professor. But he stated that many of the towns and cities, which were the centre of wartime bombing raids, were devastated, "though a lot of it is cleaned up now."

Qualifications of Workers Questioned by Steer

Sharp attack against the setup of the Alberta child welfare department was launched Monday in Edmonton.

George Steer, KC, counsel for the RCMP, appearing before reconvened hearings of the Royal Commission on child welfare, contended there were no properly qualified welfare workers throughout this province to handle out-of-the-city cases.

Mr. Steer's charge came as he was cross-examining C. B. Hill, head of the welfare department here. During his three-and-one-half-hour cross-examination, Mr. Steer gave several references on which he based his charge, principally among which were a University of Toronto report on qualifications, and the 1943 Wilson report. (This report was compiled by a committee headed by H. J. Wilson, now deputy attorney general, to check welfare conditions in Alberta.)

Mr. Steer also made reference to a case, which had previously been reviewed by the Commission in camera, in which two girls were left in custody of their father, reputedly of low morals, until six years after their mother's death when charges were laid against the father and son for improper relations with the girls.

Charge of "falsing" for evidence was made against Mr. Steer when he asked that the minute book of the welfare department, since its formation in May, 1944, be produced before the Commission.

Morace Johnson, associate counsel for the Alberta government, charged Mr. Steer had "no evidence" and "wants the minute book to see if he can find some evidence."

Chief Justice W. R. Howson, chairman of the Commission, which now in its 11th month, ruled the minute book should be produced. The probe, which is expected to continue by June 29, is continuing today.

Battlers Fined $160 For Weekend Frolic

Fines totalling $160 were levied on week-end brawlers in police court Monday.

William Radack, 9644 101 avenue, was fined $20 and costs when he pleaded guilty to assaulting his wife with a bottle, causing her actual bodily harm, Saturday night.

He was fined an additional $20 on a charge of being drunk.

Police told the court the man's wife was taken to hospital with an eight-inch cut in her head.

Paul Labille, 16409 98 street, and Ernest Martin, Edmonton, were fined $15 or an alternative 21 days each on charges of assaulting William Paulley, 11929 66 street, at his home Saturday night after a drinking party.

William Brown was assessed $20 for assault and another $20 for being drunk after pleading guilty to assaulting Nick Chouke, 12208 37 street, with a chair, in a beer parlor.

James McEwan, 13542 66 street, was fined $20 or one month on charges of striking two Chinese.

Anderson of Calgary was elected president of the National Association of Master Plumbers and Heating Contractors which at its session concluding here addressed a resolution to the federal and provincial governments, protesting against "force and coercion" to make apprenticeship in labor unions.

Northern Ontario Publisher Dies

SUDBURY, Ont., June 22.—(CP)—William Edge Mason, 66, owner and publisher of the Sudbury Star and Bay Nugget, died in hospital today. He suffered an acute attack of coronary thrombosis last July 8.

SUNSHINE GOOD FOR SOME, BAD FOR OTHERS

Stunning weather of the past week was lovely for holiday-makers, but was a little too good for many farming regions of Alberta.

The Dominion Public weather office in Edmonton announced today that recent rains have been prevailing in many parts of the province.

Hours of sunshine for the past three weeks totalled 224 hours, as compared to the previous all-time record of 268 hours in 1919, and a normal for the period of 164.

The mean temperature of 62 equals the previous record mean in 1912. Normal temperature for the period is 57.

Rainfall was over an inch below the normal of 2.21 inches, being 1.06.

Humidity of the air, too, was much below normal.

Light rainfall early in the period, plus rapid evaporation due to dry air, an abnormal amount of sunshine, and high temperatures have combined to produce a serious drought condition," the report states.

The Jungfrau, a magnificent snow-capped mountain peak in Switzerland, is said to have received its name — which means "maiden" — from its pure whiteness and delicate shape.

Milady's Millinery Given Personal Touch

By Margaret Wolf

Familiar temptation for most women is the purchase of a new hat. It's the name for Gerald Yeo, although she's a milliner adept in the making of hats.

In her hands materials seem to come alive. Feathers, flowers, veils and colors are combined in unexpected and fascinating contrasts.

She makes in the art of creating hats. Miss Yeo has been in the millinery business for the past 28 years. She received her training in Edmonton and has had her own shop for 3 years, assisted by two milliners.

All her hats are beautifully beautiful. But she confesses that she is her favorite material because they drape so easily. With expert restrictions being lifted all strains and feints used by the talented woman came from Europe.

What she generally uses: Flowers are in the trimmings for adding models, veils and feathers for the autumn creations.

She has a shop for Millie is also the month for bridal veils and mourning headpieces. Displays of flowers, ribbons of wire, masses of veils are transformed into original headpieces.

Some bridesmaid will soon wear a cross-stitch hat of flowers, pecking from beneath a cloud of blue veiling.

A visit to her bright Jasper avenue shop leaves the purchaser in a quandary. All the models are just what one's been looking for.

Perched on one stand was a pert Gibson Girl sailor of black straw, trimmed with mohair, black velvet ribbon bowed in the front and the touch of the milliner in a cluster of passion pink roses.

A must in every bride's trousseau was a pea green picture hat in a course green tulle trimmed with pink veils.

Italian lace-fashions a crownless, wide brimmed original trimmed with black velvet ribbon.

Originality and imagination are the keywords of Miss Yeo's lovely hats.

CANADIAN BULWARKS OF DEMOCRACY

THE HOME

"None Love Their Country But Who Love Their Home..." Coleridge.

From the earliest recorded history, the motivating, dominating force in man's life has been his love of home. To protect it, and those in it, he has taken up arms, fought and died. No race or people has achieved true greatness without the blessings of the background of the home and all that it implies.

Through the ages, literature, art and music bear testimony of man's devotion to his hearth... it has ever been a theme to move men to tears, laughter or song. It is the real force that shapes, moulds, strengthens that character of the Canadian people.

True, the Canadian is not given to the demonstrative... he would be ill-at-ease were he to be asked to define that love of home. Visitors to Canada have remarked on our closely-knit home life. But, say we, that is as it should be. People of other countries may mass worship the army or the state as the supreme force in their lives. Not for the individualistic Canadian. There is a maxim: "Every man's home is his castle."

The home is the force that works silently over the land, shaping our destiny throughout our lives... the refuge to which we turn after the day's work... the haven of peace and content. In the home, man is master, father, husband and host... here we find that most precious of all free men's possessions: The respect and affection of our own. Here are the books we treasure... the pictures we treasure... here, we and our children bring our friends. Truly, the home is the foundation on which the character of our people is builded. Without it, we might well degenerate into a race of robots, without feeling, heart or principle.

We shall ever guard the home and all those in it. That is our way and that it shall always be.

Canadian Civil Service Bans Reds, Fascists

OTTAWA, June 22.—(CP)—Justice Minister Heston told the Commons today no Communist or Fascist would be allowed to hold a position of trust within the federal civil service.

He answered questions by Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) and John Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre) with a long prepared statement detailing government measures to cope with potentially subversive elements.

He said the government was "acutely" aware of the need for security measures and administrative measures had been taken to ensure it. It had been decided not to set up "an elaborate organization to determine the loyalties" of individuals, as has been done in England.

An interdepartmental committee had been set up within the federal employees' ranks to act as a panel of security. It would coordinate security measures, and would devise the best methods for making lists about any applicant for a position.

Referring to the celebrated questionnaires that have been sent out to persons in positions of trust, Mr. Heston said they would facilitate the work of those who had to make inquiries.

The adding machine was invented by Blaise Pascal, a Frenchman, in 1642.

Illegal Adoptions Studied by Govt.

Dominion, Several Provinces Seeking Solution to Problem

OTTAWA, June 22.—(CP)—External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said in the Commons last night the Dominion and "several" provinces are seeking to find a way to halt illegal international baby adoptions.

The question was raised by Max Campbell (CCF-The Battlefords) and John T. Hackett (PC-Stanstead) during discussion of external affairs estimates.

Campbell, speaking of "the practice of giving Canadian children to people in the United States for adoption," said:

"We need these children here. We have many good Canadian families who want children for adoption. It is a crime to allow these children to go to another country where we have absolutely no supervision over them."

"From the application that comes in," said St. Laurent, "it is not always possible to tell that it is apt to lead to an adoption." The Dominion and the provinces would co-operate "to see that all possible care is taken."

MP Re-Nominated SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I., June 22.—(CP)—J. Watson MacNaught, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Prince and recently appointed parliamentary assistant to Fisheries Minister Mayhew, was re-nominated yesterday to contest the constituency at the next federal election.

POLICE GET $30,000 FOR TRAFFIC FINE

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—(AP)—Police received a $30,000 traffic fine yesterday but don't intend to keep it.

The money came from Harold Simpson, stationed in Shanghai, where the currency situation is somewhat inflated. Officer Pete Zook said Simpson's letter read, in part:

"Regarding a warrant just received in forwarded mail regarding your desire of having me appear in court."

"Due to the uncertainty of my return to the U.S.A., I am enclosing 30,000 local dollars. You see, it is unlawful to send U.S. money from China."

Zook said it is unlawful to accept Chinese money here, so he will let it go.

Canada Unable to Get Woman Out of Russia

OTTAWA, June 22.—(CP)—Canada may bring before the United Nations the question of Russia's refusal to allow persons to leave the Soviet Union.

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said in the Commons that Canada now is considering such action. It would have been taken before, but it was feared it might do more harm than good to the persons in Russia.

He said the Canadian government has been trying for three years to get "a young lady" out of Russia. The government considered her a Canadian.

The Russians said she was a Russian.

Replying to Anthony Ilynka (SC, Vegreville) St. Laurent said the Russians were not letting out the country persons with dual nationality.

If the matter is taken to the United Nations, it would be on the grounds that Russia's action is in interference with a human right.

St. Laurent's reference to "a young lady" was interpreted as meaning the Russian-born wife of George Powers, a former member of the Canadian embassy staff in Moscow.

Lords Reject Clause in Nationality Bill

By James McCook

LONDON, June 22.—(CP)—The House of Lords in committee yesterday rejected by a vote of 75 to 21 the key clause in the British nationality bill introduced in parliament following passage of the Canadian Citizenship Act of 1946.

The clause was approved in the form that it was presented to the peers by a conference of Commonwealth officials, including Canadian, at London in 1947.

By a later vote of 54 to 28 the Lords rejected another clause which the Marquess of Salisbury said imposed a "humiliating" duty on Eire citizens who wished to remain British subjects.

The clause provided that when the bill was passed an Eire citizen who wished to remain a British subject could do so by giving notice. Lord Salisbury said this meant denial of a historic right and the bill was likely to inflict suffering on a section of the Eire population which had stood by Britain.

The Lord Chancellor, Viscount Jowett, said the proposal of Lord Salisbury was unacceptable to the government as the bill represented an olive branch to Eire on the nationality question and it would be unfortunate if Eire felt that the government was seeking to impose the name of British subjects on Eire citizens.

The bill was given second reading by the House of Commons.

The clause in the bill makes provision for a person to become a "citizen of the United Kingdom and the colonies." This was carried.

Canada Is Portrayed As 'Young Bull on Corn Diet'

NEW YORK, June 22.—(CP)—Canada is portrayed to Americans as a country "swelling like a young bull on a corn diet" in this week's issue of Look, fortnightly United States magazine.

"This idea, better than charts and graphs, describes the vast country north of us which, more than any other, will aid the U.S. in its efforts to achieve a lasting European recovery," Look says.

By April 2, when the Marshall Plan was passed by Congress, Canada already had granted more than $2,000,000,000 in material credit to ward European recovery.

CITES WAR RECORD

Look's 4,000-word main feature, written by Lewis M. Gillenson, describes briefly Canada's "gallant military record" and "almost revolutionary" production record during the Second World War.

War-time mutual aid of $4,000,000,000 had been "a load of $200 per Canadian" while United States "per capita lend-lease outlay was $326." After the war Canada had loaned Britain $1,250,000,000 and given other world-relief credits of $300,000,000.

With "an inordinate sense of world responsibility" she provided Britain with "the food buy of the age"—wheat at $1.50 a bushel while other sellers took what the traffic would bear.

Look reports that "French-speaking Canada has 'a striking similarity to our own South.'"

"French Canada has quite frequently been out of step with the rest of the country."

RESISTS PROGRESS

"No area has so resisted the progressive process of change. The birth rate is unusually high; the infant mortality rate shocking. Until 1943, there was no compulsory education law."

"During the last war, the French-Canadian ranted against conscription for overseas duty. The Liberal government of Mackenzie King was forced into some tricky political footwork."

"Quebec province statute books contain the infamous 'padlock laws' by which anyone suspected of anything from 'labor agitation' to 'Geddesism' may have his house padlocked by the authorities."

Despite sectional differences, Look says, Canada is unified in a

SUBS FOR CUPID AND HE WINS

OTTAWA, June 22.—(CP)—Champion of young lovers is controller Grenville Goodwin, a veteran battler in Ottawa's Board of Control.

Subbing for cupid, the controller objected to placing a special watchman in Dunderdall Park, where lovers go courting.

"You are going to interfere with a lot of high-class love making," he told Alderman Parker who had suggested the watchman. "Parks were made to pet and court in and we should not disturb people that way."

The champion of romance triumphed in a vote.

program of over-all economic expansion stemming directly from the war.

Two things it says Canada needs: More people and world recovery bringing balanced world trade to overcome the current shortage of United States dollars.

Commons Assailed On 'Time-Wasting'

Newly-Elected MP Attacks Political Speeches in House

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, June 22.—(CP)—Representatives of Canada's major political parties engaged in some political chest-thumping in the Commons yesterday, but their efforts were described as time-wasting by one of the chamber's newest members.

Arthur Williams, introduced at the start of the day's sitting as the CCF's new member from Ontario constituency, bluntly told members that he was not elected in a federal by-election June 8 to "come down here and waste time in this kind of debate."

The debate he meant was one in which party representatives praised their own platforms and criticized those of their opponents.

THIS STARTS IT

It started when Clarie Gilla (CCF—Cape Breton South) and Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto East) gave different reasons for the CCF victories in three recent by-elections.

C. E. Stephenson (PC—Durham) charged that the CCF would not be in the Ontario legislature today if it did not have the support of the Communists.

Rodney Young, new CCF member for Vancouver Centre, hopped to his feet when the charge was made and denied in his maiden speech that he had received the support of the Communists. He said the Communists are withdrawing their support from the CCF because of that party's strong stand against Communism.

RATIFY WHEAT PACT

The chamber adopted a resolution ratifying Canadian participation in an international wheat agreement.

First reading was given to a bill which will make it possible for the dependents of some civilians killed during the war to apply for government pensions.

The legislation affects the dependents of merchant seamen, salt-water fishermen and civilian pilots who ferried aircraft overseas.

A bill authorizing the Saskatchewan government to sell to veterans school lands transferred to it by the Dominion in 1920 was adopted.

Later, members resumed study of external affairs department estimates.

LIBERAL 'ANNIHILATION'

In the political debate, Fleming forecast the "annihilation" of the Liberal party "unless this government wakes up and takes action to reduce taxes and combat the rising cost of living."

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) asked the government what it was going to do as a result of the division in Liberal ranks on the question of living costs and high taxes. The government should say whether it plans to provide relief through tax reductions and subsidies.

John Blackmore (S.S.—Leithbridge) said the salvation of the two old parties lay in the adoption of Social

RCAF Holds Wings Parade

OTTAWA, June 22.—(CP)—A colorful air station ceremony at Centennial, Ont., Monday marked the first wings parade of the RCAF since the end of the Second World War.

Fifteen former bomb aliners and air gunners saluted and received their pilot wings from Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of the air staff. Six of them were invested with the DFC, two with the bar. Others were decorated previously.

As hundreds of airmen marched past in review order following the presentations, nine Harvard aircraft piloted by RCAF flying instructors saluted the saluting base in perfect formation.

Former bomb aliners graduating included: Ptl. Lt. E. Atkins, DFC, Cremona, Alta., and Ptl. Lt. J. Walter, South Edmonton.

Visitors To U.K. May Take Fifty Pounds Of Food

OTTAWA, June 22.—(CP)—Visitors to Britain may take along 50 pounds of food without import license, double the previous quota, the United Kingdom information office announced today.

Specified, however, is that not more than 10 pounds of any one commodity may be included, and that the food must be declared to British customs authorities. The latter must be satisfied the food is not for sale.

The ruling does not apply to visitors from Eire or crew members of ships.

500 DP's Arrive From Europe

QUEBEC, June 22.—(CP)—Five hundred displaced persons arrived here last night aboard the steamship Volendam of the Holland-America Line. About 500 British immigrants and visitors to Canada also were aboard.

Among the immigrants are 280 Mennonites from Germany, largest single group transported from Europe yet. The majority are farmers.

No information was immediately available as to where in Canada the DP's and Mennonites will settle.

Credit policies. There were only two alternative adoption of the Social Credit theories of debt-free money or adoption of Socialism.

Medicine Hat Puts Ban on Watering

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., June 22.—(CP)—A state of emergency in Medicine Hat domestic water supply situation was declared Monday by utility officials. All garden and lawn-watering was forbidden and power-house pumping for other use cut 50 per cent to a 3,000,000-gallon daily rate.

The town of Redcliff, nine miles west of here, is entirely without pure water supply with the two pumping station basements under eight feet of water and motors blown. Drinking water will be imported today by tank car for the town's 1,200 inhabitants.

It will likely be a week before normal service is restored in Redcliff, dependent on the fall of the South Saskatchewan river, now receding from its Saturday's flood peak.

BIG SHIP WAITS FOR PASSENGER

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—A gentleman always waits for a lady.

Even, as happened Monday, when he's the captain of a huge passenger ship and she misses the last gangplank.

Mrs. Marie Moysan, 68, of New York, was one of 747 passengers sailing for France today aboard the French liner De Grasse. She went back to the pier to say good-bye to friends. While she was looking for them, the De Grasse put out.

Line officials signalled the ship. Captain Jean Le Manché gallantly held the vessel in the harbor half an hour while the frantic Mrs. Moysan rode to her in a special tug.

Election Campaigners On Last Lap in Sask.

REGINA, June 22.—(CP)—Went campaigners entered the home stretch today—the last day during which political broadcasting is permitted before Thursday's Saskatchewan election.

Final addresses are scheduled here for CCF leader M. J. Coldwell and Premier T. C. Douglas, with all candidates returning to their home constituencies for the election eve. Premier Douglas goes to Weyburn and Coldwell to Regina. Agricultural Minister Gardiner will return to Melville, and Walter Tucker, provincial Liberal leader, to Rosetown.

Tucker is confident of victory for "democracy," which he said yesterday is on the march in Saskatchewan.

Speaking to a rally of more than 2,500 persons, Tucker, election of a Liberal government would result in a "surge of good will" for Saskatchewan all across Canada. It would bring millions of dollars to the province for investment and aid the implementation of the federal government's social security and public investment proposals.
